Microwave Masters

R H Hall have been dominating the microwave market for almost 40 years, building an extensive knowledge of this trusted kitchen essential. R H Hall are the UK's largest, most knowledgeable and innovative microwave supplier and stock only models from leading commercial brands – such as Sharp, the UK's no. 1 and Maestrowave – having been sole UK distributors for both since 1992!

Microwaves are an essential part of any commercial kitchen and the latest technology means today's machines are sophisticated and easy to use – producing excellent results in a fraction of the time it takes conventional cooking methods. The versatility of microwaves is often hugely underestimated. From simple, efficient microwave only, to fully automated meal solutions, R H Hall offer the latest and most versatile products.

Recently added to the range is the Maestrowave MW10, a 1000W machine aimed at smaller operators looking for microwave speed with a reliable reputation. The unique microwave distribution and cavity ensure perfect cooking every time, backed up by an unprecedented 3 Year Warranty on the Magnetron – the heart of the machine. For larger operators, or those requiring more than just speed, the Maestrowave range also includes high speed combination microwaves such as the award winning Combi Chef 7. Packed with features including Menu Creator 2.0™ software, this oven can produce outstanding results at the touch of a button. A video showing the features & benefits of this innovative product is available at www.rhhall.com

In addition, the range of market leading Sharp microwaves is available exclusively from R H Hall and their nationwide dealer network – offering machines from 1000 Watts up to extra heavy duty and high power 1900 Watts, catering for all foodservice applications. Designed with total flexibility and versatility in mind, all machines have in-built features to help save time and energy.

Innovation is at the forefront of R H Hall and today's demanding market – the Maestrowave iWave® system is a prime example of this innovation. Using the latest microwave technology, the system provides a unique, fully encrypted, bar coded meal solution which is suitable for a number of applications including hospital ward service, retail vending outlets and more. The product is a world first, and available exclusively through R H Hall.

RH Hall can also provide much more than just a microwave solution and work with many of the UK's leading foodservice operators to produce bespoke solutions, offering optimum results. A knowledgeable Food Solutions team work from the state-of-the-art RH Hall Development Kitchen and also have access to the 15,000 sq ft fabrications division – enabling production of bespoke, branded microwave housing units, to increase customer visibility and ease of use.

RH Hall operates through a national network of approved dealers, along with dedicated National Account and Food Solutions divisions, ensuring the right person is always on hand to deal with any enquiry.
