Microwave Masters

RH Hall have been dominating the microwave market for over 40 years, building an extensive knowledge of this trusted kitchen essential. RH Hall are the UK's largest, most knowledgeable and innovative microwave supplier, stocking only models from leading commercial brands – such as Sharp, the UK's no. 1 and Maestrowave – having been sole UK distributors for both since 1992!

With the foodservice industry having to quickly adapt to restrictions created by the COVID-19 pandemic, many operators are reviewing their menu offering – perhaps now having a reduced workforce or budget. Microwaves continue to be essential part of any commercial kitchen and the latest technology means today's machines are sophisticated yet easy to use – offering excellent results in a fraction of the time of conventional cooking methods. RH Hall can recommend a solution to help any operation adapt to the new normal.

The affordable but reliable Maestrowave MW10 and 12 are the ideal every day machine for smaller operators, or perhaps a back up machine for larger sites which rely on a microwave being available at all times. Also in the Maestrowave range is the award winning Combi Chef 7, which utilises high speed combination cooking alongside Menu Creator 2.0™ software - combining microwave speed with traditional convection to create a 'kitchen in a box' offering outstanding results.

The market leading range of Sharp microwaves is also available exclusively from RH Hall – offering machines from 1000W up to extra heavy duty and high power 1900W, catering for all foodservice applications. The innovative R7500M uses the latest Inverter technology to provide ultra precise cooking control, with perfect results – particularly when defrosting or cooking delicate foods.

Innovation has always been at the forefront of RH Hall and the iWave® system is a prime example. Using the latest barcode technology, the system provides a unique, fully encrypted solution which is suitable for a number of applications – from healthcare to retail vending. RH Hall have worked closely with a number of NHS sites throughout the pandemic to ensure they are able to offer hot food 24/7. In addition, developments continue with leading vending companies as they set up self service 'Micro Markets', which allow businesses to easily adapt to contact free, socially distanced staff environments.

RH Hall operate through a national network of approved dealers, along with dedicated National Account and Food Solutions divisions, ensuring they always have the right person on hand to deal with any enquiry! So for all your Microwave oven and foodservice equipment requirements you only need one number – 01296 663400!
